The electrical properties of amber were known to the Greeks before the Christian era. Electricity takes its name from the Greek word for amber. Gilbert in 1600 was the first to employ the terms "electric force" and "electric .tractions," In 1748 Franklin's elecresearches had progressed so far tal he killed a turkey by the electric park and roasted it by an electric lack before a fire kindled by the electric bottle, and in 1752 by means of the kite experiment he demonstrated the identity of electricity and lightning. The first magneto-electric machine was made at Paris by Pixil in 1832; the first telegraph line in the United States was set up between Washington and Baltimore in 1814; the first sub-marine cable was laid between England and France in 1850. As early as 1802 Sir Humphry Davy produced an electric light with carbon points on almost the same principle as that now employed. The first electric railway on the continent of Europe was built by Siemens at Berlin in 1881, the first in England was constructed in 1882, and in America the first electric line was built in 1885.

People will discover at last that roy al roads to anything can no more be laid in iron than they can in dust; that there are, in fact, no royal roads to is too numerous to mention prices. But anywhere worth going to; that if there were it would that instant cease to be worth going to-I mean so far as the things to be obtained are in any way estimable in terms of price, for there are two classes of precious . gs in the world-those that God gives us fo nothing-sun, air and life, both mortal life and immortal, and the secondarily precious things which he gives us fo price. These secondarily precious things, worldly wine and milk, can be bought for definite money They never can be cheapened. No cheating nor bargaining will ever get a single thing out of nature's establish ment at half price. Do we want to be strong? We must work. To be hun gry? We must starve. To be happy? We must be klad. To be wise? We must look and think.-Ruskin.

> The Tip of the Alligator's Tall. ing to the Cleveland Leader, is the tip of an ailigator's tail. It tastes like frogs' legs, though a bit more gamy. Alligator tails are best just after the ricebird season. The big alligators float in the water with only their eyes showing. When they see a flock of these fat, juicy little birds they dive to the bottom. Their long, wide snow scoops up some of the loam, and they float to the surface again with just the rich soil showing. The birds think it is an island. They alight upon it. When the whole family is there the big reptile turns suddenly. Just as the birds scramble of he opens his mouth once. They are gone. The birds are neat little feeders, and the alligator is an spicure at this time of the year. The ricebird diet makes the tip of his tail of which he is most vain, tender and

A Fumous Dwarf.

Geoffrey Hudson, the famous dwarf of Charles I., was introduced at court during the festivities attending the coronation. By an odd conceit he was concealed in a cold pie, the crust of which being removed disclosed the dwarf fully dressed and making his bow to the king and queen. At the age of twenty he was eighteen inches high, but before attaining the age of thirty he giew several inches additional. Cooffrey, like most dwarfs, was of limited intelligence, but of intense vanity and large self conceit. It is as serted by many scientific authorities that this is a characteristic of dwarfs.

The Theater of Dionysus.

What was probably one of the earliest theaters built was the theater of Di onysus, which was begun five centuries before Christ. The seating capacity of this remarkable building is said to have been 30,000. The theater of Dionysus was erected when Greek art and literature were in their prime. Here were presented to appreciative spectators the wonderful works of Aeschylus, Sophocles and Euripides

"Did it ever strike you that a bur-glar of all men is most sensitive to the fitness of things?"

"Can't say it ever did. How do you make It out? "He always throws light on his shady transactions with a dark lantern."-
